

I think the TCPA is a Bad Idea. I do not want my name added to a huge (unsecure?) database, which could then be hacked, sold, or stolen. My privacy is valuable to me. TCPA is just one more list to be on that someone will monitor. We don't need more legislation; we need consumers to get a backbone, and take care of the problem themselves! Ignore the incoming call, erase the message, hang up on them. Another law won't change anything.
